The Annotation

The following exercise should be performed after finding either a book or an article for which you would like to write an annotation.

Step 1: Read the Forward, Abstract, Prologue, or introduction of your book or article.

Notes

Step 2: Read the entire article or table of contents of your book. Do you see any chapters that interest you?

Notes

Step 3: Read at least the first few paragraphs of each chapter, more if you’d like. The more you read the more you will know to write about!

Notes
Step 4: Write a summary of the book or article using no less than 150 words.
